TAKE Spirit – bridging between theory and practice.

TAKE is an international scientific conference devoted to the multidisciplinary study of the knowledge economy. In particular, it intends to analyze the relation and the gap between theories and practices in the knowledge economy of the 21st century.

As researchers, lecturers and practitioners, we know that theory evolves as long as practice demands. And we also know that answers for social problems require multidisciplinary efforts. Many times social scientists live in silos. We believe not only theory should meet practice but also scientist with different perspectives should meet.

Take 2024 – Working, Training, Learning, Unlearning and Relearning in Post-Covid19 societies- virtualities, opportunities and challenges

After COVID-19 the world entered a new phase in which we are neither in the Old Normal of before COVID-19, neither in what we called the New Normal of the pandemic times,

Quite crucially, this new phase is here to stay, because the experience of COVID-19 effectively changes us and changed societies.

Therefore reflection and studies are needed on what is to work, to learn, and to train nowadays.

TAKE 2024 has 24 streams waiting for your input.

Therefore, we bring together researchers, practitioners, and industry experts to discuss, advance, and shape the future of the knowledge economy. Following the experience of previous TAKE conferences, we will put together experts from different fields such as Human Resource Development, Human Resource Management, Injustice and Inclusion, Intellectual Capital, Knowledge Management, Logistics, Retail, Public Policy, Innovation and Entrepreneurship, Business Models, SMEs, Competitiveness and Accounting.
